

NOTES ON ROOFING ALLIANCE SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATIONS

All programs are intended for employees (such as field workers, foremen, operations managers, superintendents, office personnel, sales staff, warehouse workers, equipment operators, drivers, etc.), their spouses and children.

Dependent children are defined as natural or legally adopted children, stepchildren or grandchildren who are declared as tax exemptions by the employee, parent or guardian

The following are NOT eligible: owners, their children or spouses; employees who are in upper/senior management positions (vice presidents and above) or their children or spouses; Roofing Alliance Board of Trustee members and officers (current and former), and NRCA industrial/institutional and international members.

Construction Management programs are designed to prepare students for the art of achieving maximum profit by efficient use of people, machines, materials and other resources to complete a construction project on time and to the satisfaction of the owner. A meld of engineering, construction, management and business gives the student a background and understanding of a management point of view in the construction industry. Programs leading to Bachelor of Science in Construction Management degrees are typically accredited by the American Council for Construction Education (ACCE), <http://www.acce-hq.org>.

Scholarships are not guaranteed if an applicant's major or eligibility changes.

Applicants may apply for only one of the three scholarship categories.

The Roofing Alliance reserves the right to review the conditions and procedures of the Melvin Kruger Endowed Scholarship Program and make changes at any time, including termination of the program.

Final selection of recipients is made by the Roofing Alliance's Board of Trustees. All applicants agree to accept the decision of the Board of Trustees as final.

Scholarship recipients are selected on the basis of academic record; potential to succeed; leadership and participation in school and community activities; honors; work experience; volunteer experience; their career goals and aspirations; a general essay; and an appraisal by outside references. Scholarship recipients will be considered on all aspects of their application, including merit, and personal achievements.

All applicants will be notified of the Board of Trustees' decisions by June 1 each year. Not all applicants to the program will be selected as recipients.

Scholarship America processes Roofing Alliance scholarship payments on behalf of the Roofing Alliance. Each year, payment is made in early August. Checks are mailed to each recipient's home address and made payable to the student's school.
